Read Psalm 63:1 and reflect on it. When was this verse descriptive of your life? The Psalmist described his life as being lived out in a “dry and weary land.” Do you think that is a true description of our own day?

*“My soul thirsts for you,
my body longs for you,
In a dry and weary land where there is no water.”* Psalm 63:1

1. Share a time in your life when you felt “thirsty.” Initially what did you think was at the root of your thirst and what did you discover the root to actually be? How did you address the root problem?
2. Have you ever been dissatisfied with your life? How did you resolve the issue and come to a place of contentment? Are you a content person?
3. Do you know of people who are thirsty but don’t know it or are thirsty and know it and are looking for something to satisfy their thirst? What have you done to help people quench their thirst? What can the church do to help people quench their thirst? How good is the Church at helping people quench their thirst?
4. Of the three thirsts Jesus quenches that were mentioned in the sermon, which one has helped you the most?
5. Look at Jeremiah 2:13. What wells have you dug in order to find satisfaction? What wells do people tend to dig to find satisfaction in life? Do they work?
6. How do you quench your spiritual thirst? Over the years what has helped you the most and what has not?
7. Due to the restrictions placed on places of worship and group gatherings, it’s been challenging to keep people spiritually hydrated. Moving forward what can we do that we are not doing to help meet the spiritual needs of our congregation?
8. Ask a question of the group that is on your mind and has not been covered.
